MEET LOUISVILLE

For most people, Bourbon is a spirit that comes in a glass. And no one is more famous for it than Kentucky, where Louisville has been the Bourbon epicenter since its founding. Here, Bourbon is also a spirit that lives in our minds and hearts. It shapes our culture. Even those who don't consume it will feel it.

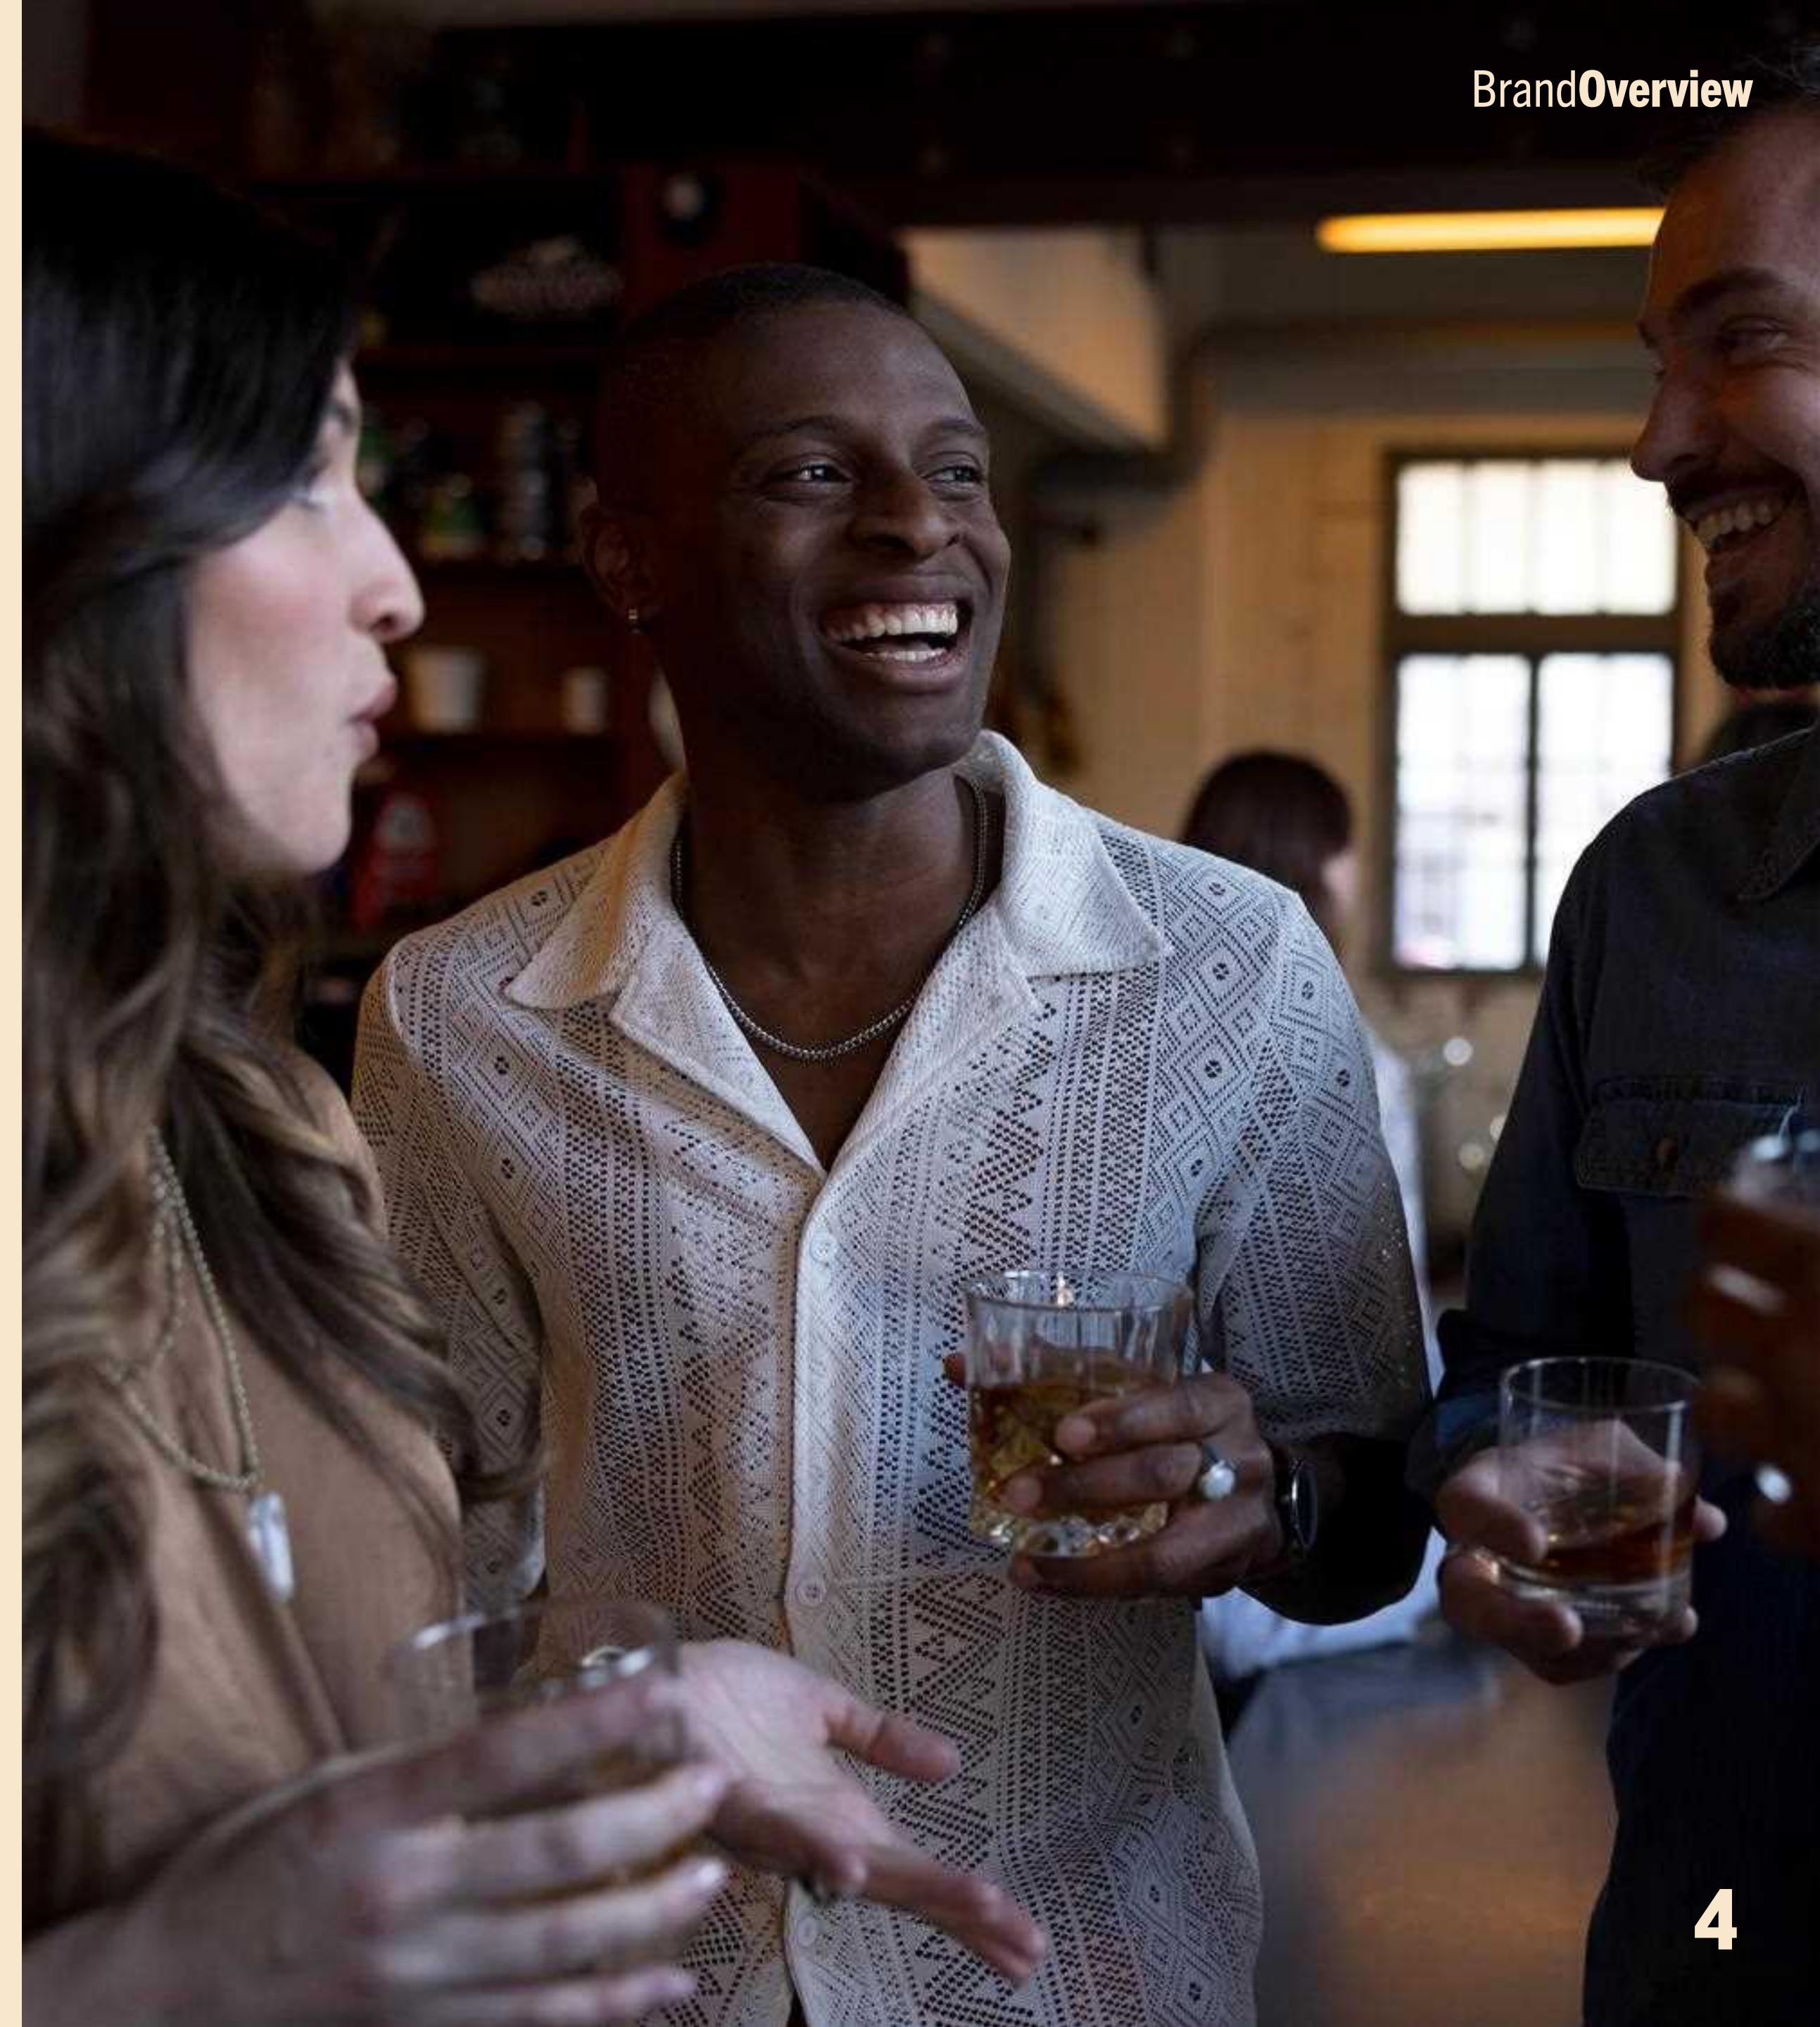

Centuries ago, Bourbon was created by some of the most spirited entrepreneurs to ever walk the earth. Their unique and free-thinking spirit was passed down generation to generation and built the Bourbon industry as we now know it. It's this same spirit that went on and created Louisville itself – a city that combines heritage with innovation, authenticity with originality and quirkiness with friendliness in a way that's completely unique to our region. It's this same spirit that provides Louisville with a brand of Southernness and hospitality unlike any other place. It's a spirit that defines our culture and compassion, our arts and parks, our creative energy – not to mention our highly acclaimed culinary scene.

Welcome to Bourbon City.

BRAND OVERVIEW

Louisville is a city filled with spirited, free-thinking individuals who have an extraordinary passion for the iconic asset that makes us different: Bourbon.

As the front porch of the South, we offer a brand of hospitality and Southernness that's unique to our region, uniquely our own. You might think of it as Southern Hospitality with a Bourbon chaser.

Think Hunter S. Thompson, My Morning Jacket and Jennifer Lawrence.

BRAND VOICE

BOLD

We're confident and we're not afraid to show it. We use dynamic, active language to invite others in. There's a fine line between bold and brazen, so remember: we're never rude, harsh or crass. We're comfortably sure of ourselves.

SMOOTH

Like a sip of bourbon, our words go down smooth. We keep it short, sweet and full of character. We play with juxtapositions that make people see our city in new, unexpected ways.

MAGNETIC

You know that person at every party – the one everyone wants to be around? That's us. It's a subtle allure that draws others in. It's Southern charm in the city.

VOICE VS. TONE

Our voice is our brand's character. It's not just about how we write or talk – it's about how we express ourselves overall. It covers all types of communication: written, verbal, presented, acted, visual and experiential.

Tone is more about the attitude. It's the way we communicate something to a specific audience, and it's determined entirely by context. Adjust it as needed while maintaining the brand voice.

GRAPHICS STANDARDS

The look created for Louisville is one that conveys an attitude and charm that's completely unique to our city. It's about redefining bourbon culture and showcasing everything the city has to offer in new and unexpected ways. It's about the ease of enjoying a getaway with us while we greet you with warm hospitality in a city of originals, one-of-a-kind attractions and spirited culture that comes from our Bourbon heritage.

This guide serves to present Louisville in a uniform fashion through the proper use of our logos, taglines, typefaces and photography used in all marketing, advertising and sales materials.

As these essential elements serve to present and build our brand identity, it's important that these guidelines are followed to ensure we are always presenting ourselves with a consistent and clear look and feel.

These elements are the most visible representation of everything that Louisville stands for, which is why we cannot overstress how vital it is to apply these graphics standards to everything on which we put our name.

THE LOGO

The Louisville logo is the most immediate visual representation of our city and our brand. It's a valuable asset that should be used consistently in the proper approved formats.

There are three acceptable uses of our logo: either in all black, off-white or white – whichever works best for legibility. The logo should always be consistent and easy to identify at a glance.

ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS

The “EST. 1778” is our primary logo.

The “Bourbon City” logo should be used on all campaign materials

When legibility due to size does not allow for use of the logo lockup (e.g., mobile banner ads), the Louisville logo may be used on its own.

CAMPAIGN OVERVIEW

BOURBON CITY

Bourbon City is a seemingly simple phrase that some people (like us) might be familiar with already. But to the average audience, it's a contradiction. When they think of where bourbon comes from – and where they'd go to experience it – they think of scenic distilleries, picturesque pastures and barrels aging in the middle of nowhere.

All of that is true. And it's all stuff you should see and do. But you've got to go somewhere to get there. And that somewhere is Louisville. We're the city at the center of all that scenery. We're where bourbon meets the world – with so much more style and sophistication than you ever imagined.

We're Bourbon City. We've said it before. Now let's own it. In a truly meaningful way. Because it's exactly what so many travelers are looking for – and we're the only ones who can give it to them.

LOOK AND FEEL

The vibe of this campaign is sophisticated, yet cool.
The look and feel should have an elevated quality.

A few things to remember:

- Images should be tightly cropped
- Bourbon is always the hero – not the talent
- Bourbon should be framed by the headline
- You can play with where the headline sits to add visual interest

Spacious, bold type

Relaxed close-up with human elements

COLOR USAGE

Our campaign colors stay true to the Bourbon City vibes. We use muted and warm tones that enhance that classic amber hue.

The creme color is the lightest color we use. Do not use stark white (e.g., #FFFFFF).

The deep black is the darkest color we use. Do not use jet black (e.g., #000000).

The deep orange is our secondary color. It's reserved mostly for digital CTA buttons. Use it sparingly.

VISUALS

A close-up photograph of a hand holding a lowball glass filled with whisky and ice cubes. The hand is positioned in the lower right, with the fingers gripping the glass. In the background, a coiled rope is visible against a dark, textured background. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the liquid in the glass and the texture of the rope.

PHOTO STANDARDS

Images should feel casual, but elevated

Retouching should use natural, warm colors

The composition should be tightly cropped

Images with faces should be cropped just above the nose

VIDEO STANDARDS

Videos should convey an elevated energy

Footage should feature groups interacting naturally

Interactions should feel lived-in, not directed

Videos should never feel overindulgent or wild

*Please contact Doe-Anderson for any photo and video retouching needs.

COPY STANDARDS

TAGLINE

When “Bourbon City” is used as a tagline, it should always appear in the context of the logo-lockup. It can also be used in headlines and copy as another way of referring to Louisville.

HEADLINES

Keep them short, confident and witty.

URL

For nondigital media, the URL should simply be GoToLouisville.com – no “www.” Always use initial caps for readability.

In digital, use buttons with the CTA “PLAN YOUR SIP”.
